

Today's Dirty Dozen – Museums

(So good, we give you an extra 5):

You may never be able to visit any of these on this trip, but here is a list of some really fun museums of interest to those in and out of the kink community. Remarks are made where appropriate.

Asian Art Museum, now featuring 'Drama and Desire,' Japanese paintings from the Floating World 1690-1850. Caution – erotic content; may induce unusual/unwanted urges.

<http://www.asianart.org/>

SF MOMA (as in San Francisco Museum of Modern Art), snappy shots by Lee Friedlander

<http://www.sfmoma.org/>

African Diaspora Museum

<http://www.moadsf.org/>

Cartoon Art Museum (commercial, but if you are into cartoon art, the place to visit). Yes, it's a Mickey Mouse operation.

<http://www.cartoonart.org/>

DeYoung Museum, now featuring a mammoth, retrospective collection of works by Gilbert & George

<http://www.famsf.org/>

Legion of Honor, snappy shots, "Annie Leibovitz: A Photographer's Life, 1990–2005"

<http://www.famsf.org/>

Exploratorium (for the kid in us. Seriously, it will make you smile for days)

<http://www.exploratorium.edu/>

Academy of Sciences/Steinhart Aquarium (think fish, but not sushi, soon to be relocated back in GG Park)

<http://www.calacademy.org/index.php>

Randall Museum, A-Maze-ing puzzles (also home of the Golden Gate Model Railroad Club)

<http://www.randallmuseum.org/>

Zeum (more kid stuff, commercial)

<http://www.zeum.org/>

Museum Mecanique (ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha)

<http://www.museemechanique.org/>

Cable Car Museum, big wheels keep on turning, little wheels climb halfway to the stars (free)

<http://www.cablecarmuseum.org/>

Fire Dept Museum (oh the uniforms, and firemen, yum!)

<http://www.sffiremuseum.org/>

Yerba Buena Center

<http://www.ybca.org/visit/>

Brought to you as a kinky public service from the folks who are bringing you Leather Leadership Conference 12.

Special thanks to JimH from the South Bay for his wonderful contributions.

Arouse!